Amazing New Frontiers for Accounting

Call for Papers

Accounting is perhaps the oldest of the disciplines in the business school, and double-entry bookkeeping gives it a unique and stable structure. On the other hand, the recent decade has seen major changes in the environment of accounting, including the recent global financial crisis, leading to the need for considerable rethinking about accounting institutions and practices. CAAA invites you to join your colleagues from around the world at the Toronto Hilton hotel on May 26-29, 2011 to share an exploration of the amazing new frontiers for accounting and the challenges they present for accountants in practice and academia.

Key Dates

The deadline for submission is January 16, 2011.
Papers are to be submitted in an electronic form to: http://hq.ssrn.com/conference=CAAA-2011
The Scientific Committee’s decisions regarding paper acceptance will be sent by March 15, 2011.

Keynote Speakers

| Rashad Abdel-Khalik, University of Illinois | Joshua Ronen, New York University |
| Martin J. Gruber, New York University | Shyam Sunder, Yale University |
| S.P. Kothari, Massachusetts Institute of Technology | Chester Spatt, Carnegie Mellon University |
| Cameron McInnis, Chief Accountants, Ontario Securities Commission | Dan Thornton, Queen’s University |

The CAAA invites you to submit a paper, and/or volunteer to support the paper review and selection process, to act as a discussant, a panelist, or a session chair for the conference. For full submission details, visit: www.caaa.ca.

The conference social event dinner on Saturday May 28 will be at Toronto’s CN Tower. I look forward to receiving your submissions and to seeing you in Toronto.
