Accounting, Control, Audit, Reporting unit of research and Dauphine Recherche en Management are pleased to announce the second edition of a doctoral workshop in Management control & accounting.

This year, we are honored to welcome as guest-speaker three established academics in management control & accounting:

- Claire DAMBRIN
  ESCP Europe
  (Paris, France)

- Martin MESSNER
  Innsbruck University
  (Innsbruck, Austria)

- Jérémy MORALES
  Royal Holloway, University of London
  (London, United-Kingdom)

The aim of this workshop is to provide doctoral students and young scholars with a rare opportunity to discuss their work with each other as well as with established accounting scholars. 45 minutes will be dedicated to each emerging scholar to get rich and in-depth feedbacks on their research (research paper or doctoral thesis statement).

We will select approximately 10 participants who will be expected to give short, informal presentations of their work during the Workshop, to be followed by extensive group discussion.

Applicants should be Ph.D. students or young scholars in Management Control or Accounting (or related, Audit for example). They should send a 10 to 15-page document (excluding references) that includes:
- Author information (Name – Institution – eventually Name of thesis advisor)
- A literature review and/or a theoretical framework
- A research question
- Anticipated results or preliminary findings
- A discussion

Please note that all documents must be sent in Word format and PDF in English.

In order to submit a proposal for the Doctoral Workshop, please send your document to wafa.ben-khaled@dauphine.fr before May the 31st 2016.

We also accept audience for this workshop which means that you can assist to the workshop and participate to the discussion of researches that will be presented. To do so, please fill-up this form: http://goo.gl/forms/xC143LtjkP
